Summary

Bachelor of Computer Science Kathmandu, Nepal I have been passionate about technology ever since I got the opportunity to know more about it. I am enthusiastic about how things work at the back, always curious to understand the mechanisms that allow me to learn every single day. Similarly, I am deeply interested in software development, in creating Web applications. With expertise in Laravel, Livewire, Filament, JavaScript and MySQL, I excel at developing practical and effective solutions. I am extremely eager to explore and learn new things and connect with others and I would like to collaborate on exciting projects.
